

Golfwomen Qualify Tomorrow For Middle Atlantic Title Play

By Merrell Whittlesey

Women golfers of Washington and Baltimore will renew their inter-city rivalry in the Middle Atlantic women's championship which starts tomorrow with an 18-hole qualifying round at the Rolling Road Club in Catonsville, Md. A field of 32, with 14 from Washington, will compete, according to pairings and starting times released by Dr. Robert A. Kelly.

The District champion, Mrs. A. B. Bower, of Indian Spring will attempt to add to the sectional title to the Maryland, District and Kentucky State crowns she has won previously, and although there are at least a half dozen players in the field capable of winning the title, Mrs. Bower is rated a slight favorite.

Mrs. Betty Meekley, who won the title over the medal play route in 1944, the only year it was not a match play event, will be seeking her fourth title. Mrs. Leo Walper, a possible post entry, won in 1942, the last time it was held at match play. The event was not contested in 1943 and 1945.

Other former champions in the field are Mrs. W. R. Stokes, the newly crowned Manor Club title holder who won in 1939, and Mrs. M. Louise Bell, Baltimore's 1930 champion. Mrs. Maudie Clark of the Woodhome Club will attempt to add the title to her State and city crowns.

The low 16 players tomorrow will make up the championship flight, with one match a day scheduled through the week on Friday. Post entries will be accepted.

Aitken, Shaughnessy Hit for Main Titles; Meet Ends Today

Russ Aitken and Dick Shaughnessy, big names in the skeet-shooting game and both Army Air Forces veterans, won top honors yesterday as the North-South championships were renewed at National Capital Skeet Club after a wartime layoff since 1942.

Local scattershotguns got hardly a look-in among the top places as Aitken, internationally known big game hunter and writer from New York City, missed by only one target a perfect 100 while winning the 20-gauge championship, and Shaughnessy, former boy wonder of skeet from Egypt, Mass., scored a good 94 for the 410 title. He also finished one target behind Aitken in a tie for second place in the 20-gauge.

The junior championship went to 16-year-old Doug Thomkins II of Summit, N. J., and a student at Culver Military Academy. He broke 46 of 50 targets.

The meet winds up today with all-gauge events, starting at 8 o'clock, for men and women, and two-man and five-man titles.

Aitken misses 28th Bird. Aitken, who in addition to his fame as a skeet and rifle shot, hunter and writer, also is one of the top men in the ceramic art field, after 27 straight hits, missed the bird from the high house on No. 2 station on his second field, then blasted 72 targets.

Although he describes himself as more a runner-up than a winner at skeet, Aitken really has some other notable victories on his record. He captured the Luke Field (Ariz.) Air Forces that won the 1942 North American telegraphic team championship and was high gun on that team with a run of 100 straight. From that he went on to run a total of 743 straight. Only last week he was runnerup in the international 28-gauge championships.

Shaughnessy, the 410 winner yesterday, has probably the most notable record among skeet shooters today. Now 24, he has held several world records, made the all-America team when a 14-year-old and has been on it since. He was captain of the last all-America selected in 1942.

Runner Shootoffs Stated. So large was yesterday's entry that the last of 74 shooters in the 20-gauge finished in darkness. Second-place titles are to be shot off today.

Junior Baseball Title At Stake in Benefit For Downs Family

Intercity rivals and national junior championship baseball teams will risk their prestige for a good cause Wednesday night when Police Boys Club No. 5 of Washington clashes with Boys Brigade of Baltimore in Griffith Stadium.

The game is being sponsored by the Touchdown Club as a benefit for the family of the late Donald W. Downs, District policeman killed recently while directing traffic.

The Police Clubmen, titlists of the Police Inter-city Athletic League and the Baltimore nine, All-American junior champion, have agreed to recognize the clash as a world's junior championship game.

Maj. Harvey G. Callahan, superintendent of the Metropolitan Police and the game's chairman, predicts that several thousand dollars will be raised for the cause and announces that special entertainment features to precede the game will include musical numbers from the bands of both the Police Boys Club and the Police Department.

Although he describes himself as more a runner-up than a winner at skeet, Aitken really has some other notable victories on his record. He captured the Luke Field (Ariz.) Air Forces that won the 1942 North American telegraphic team championship and was high gun on that team with a run of 100 straight. From that he went on to run a total of 743 straight. Mrs. Goodman Takes Woodmont Golf Title

Mrs. Henry S. Goodman won the Woodmont Club women's golf championship for the third time yesterday with a 1-up triumph over Mrs. Ralph Goldsmith, a former titleholder. Mrs. Goodman became the third player of women's club championship week to complete the difficult sweep of the medal and title.

The finalists were not separated by more than 1 up at any time in the 18-hole match and were all even coming to the last hole. Mrs. Goodman won the 18th when Mrs. Goldsmith's bid for a one-putt green and a half barely missed the cup.

Mrs. Doris Rafter won the second flight over Mrs. Herbert Sauber, 5 and 4.

The club title tournament was played during the war years. Mrs. Theodore Peyer, a semifinalist this year, was defending champion.

Gochenour Heads Mixed League To Roll at Lafayette Plant

Renamed the Metropolitan Mixed Doubles, the all-star league which was organized by Bob Miciotto and rolled at King Pin for the last three seasons has shifted to Lafayette, with next Friday tentatively set as opening night.

Karl Gochenour, Brookland Recreation manager, is the new president, succeeding Pete Metrakos; Ruth King, vice president, and Lorraine Gilling, agent and secretary, are also on the staff.

The loop will be composed of such stand-out couples as Madge Lewis and Al Wright, Jessie Saeary and Harry Aiken, Ruth and Joe Di Misa, Lillian Carleton and Al Terry, Ruby Parry and Paul Perkins, Miss Gull and Irving Cook, Bing Moon and Lindsey Stott, Lois Gladding and Gochenour, Jackie Pulaski and Pete Placas, Mrs. King and Nick Rinaldi, Gail Emanuele and Bill Alt and Pauline Saur and Ed Ingraham.

Miciotto, former King Pin pilot who moved to College Park during the war, had sought to have the league bowl at Bethesda Bowling Center where he is now employed.

Couples desiring to roll in the league are asked to contact Gochenour at Brookland.

S. E. Emmons, transportation manager, will roll the first ball to open
